Greetings from the IACRAO President

It is such an honor to welcome you all to this year's IACRAO conference! As President of IACRAO, I am proud to stand before you today and represent an organization that has been such an important part of my professional journey.

My IACRAO journey began at my very first conference in 2015. Looking back, I never could have imagined all the wonderful experiences, opportunities, friendships, and professional relationships that would come from that first conference. It has been an incredible 11 years, and I am truly grateful for every step along the way.

Throughout my time with IACRAO, I have had the privilege of serving in several leadership roles, including West Central Chair, Communications Manager, and now President. Each role has provided opportunities to learn, grow, collaborate, and connect with so many dedicated professionals across Illinois.

I am especially proud to represent Carl Sandburg College and IACRAO. Working in higher education has shown me that while our institutions may differ in size, mission, and structure, we share a common purpose:

helping our students succeed and supporting the people who make that success possible.

Whether we represent a two-year community college, a four-year private institution, or a four-year public university, we all face challenges, celebrate successes, and look for ways to improve what we do. One of the things I appreciate most about IACRAO is that we do not have to navigate those challenges alone.

IACRAO is more than an organization. It is a community of colleagues who are willing to share their knowledge, offer support, exchange ideas, and help one another grow.

Over the years, I have met so many wonderful friends and colleagues through this organization. Some have become mentors, some have become trusted sounding boards, and many have become lifelong friends. These relationships are one of the greatest gifts IACRAO has given me.

I believe one of the most powerful things about our profession is our willingness to collaborate. We may work at different institutions and have different responsibilities, but we are stronger when we share our experiences, learn from one another, and work together toward common goals.

Leadership is also an important part of what makes this organization special. Leadership does not always mean holding a title or being the person at the front of the room. Sometimes, it means volunteering your time, answering a colleague's question, sharing a resource, welcoming someone new, or simply being willing to say, "I've been through that, and I'm happy to help."

Those small moments of support can make a tremendous difference, both professionally and personally.

As we gather for this year's conference, I encourage each of you to take advantage of the opportunities in front of you. Attend a session that challenges you to think differently. Introduce yourself to someone you have not met before. Ask questions, share your experiences, and take time to reconnect with colleagues.

You never know when a conversation over coffee, an idea shared during a session, or a new professional connection might make a difference in your work long after this conference has ended.

And now, I want to recognize the people who helped bring us together for this year's conference.

A very special thank-you to Nate McCoy for planning this year's conference, "Practical Magic for Frightening Effectiveness!" What a fun theme! Planning a conference takes an incredible amount of time, thought, coordination, and dedication, and we appreciate the effort that goes into creating an engaging and valuable experience for all of us.

If you see Nate give him a Thank You for his hard work planning conference.

I also want to extend my sincere thanks to all the volunteers, committee members, presenters, and everyone who contributed their time and talents to make this conference possible. An event like this does not happen because of one person. It takes a team of people who are willing to step up, pitch in, and work together.

Thank you for everything you have done to make this conference a success!

As I reflect on my 11 years with IACRAO, I am reminded that the greatest strength of this organization is not simply what we accomplish together, but the people who make those accomplishments possible.

I am grateful for the opportunity to serve as your President, proud of the work we do together, and excited about the future of IACRAO.

My hope is that each of you leaves this conference with a new idea, a new connection, renewed inspiration, or simply the reminder that you are part of a professional community that values you and supports the work you do.

Thank you for being here, thank you for your commitment to higher education, and thank you for being part of IACRAO.

Let's make this year's conference a little magical, a little less frightening, and exceptionally effective!

Welcome to the IACRAO conference, everyone. Let's have a wonderful conference!

Angela Snow, President

Greetings from the IACRAO President-Elect

Welcome to the 104th IACRAO Annual Conference!

It's finally here! As your President-Elect and responsible for planning the conference, I hope you find much to benefit from. Our schedule is packed with fantastic opportunities to learn a little practical magic from our peers.

As usual, we also have a number of activities for you to relax and just enjoy yourself during including a Murder Mystery Party on Wednesday evening, our usual costume party and dance on Thursday evening, the 50/50 raffle and six gift baskets to raffle off (all proceeds go to benefit our organizational scholarships), and prizes galore throughout the conference!

I sincerely hope that you enjoy yourself during our program and carry some things back to make you even more frighteningly effective once you return to your campuses!

Sincerely,

Nate McCoy, President-Elect

Keynote Speaker, Dr. Joshua Routh

Joshua Routh is a keynote speaker, author, and entertainer who helps organizations create workplaces people love and customers trust. Known for blending practical insight with unforgettable stagecraft, he speaks on sincerity, connection, engagement, and culture transformation.

Joshua is the author of The S Word: Wielding Sincerity in a World of Performance and the founder of Circus Kaput, one of the largest variety entertainment agencies in the country. As a business owner leading a large roster of performers and producing hundreds of events each year, he brings real-world perspective on leadership, service, teamwork, and human connection.

He has worked with diverse organizations such as Google, Wells Fargo, and Edward Jones. He is a Certified Speaking Professional, a TEDx speaker, and one of fewer than 100 professional sword swallowers in the world - a distinction that reflects the memorable, high-impact style he brings to every audience.

Whether he is delivering a keynote, facilitating a breakout, emceeding an event, or helping a leadership team deepen engagement, Joshua is known for combining substance, sincerity, humor, and surprise in a way that moves people and stays with them long after the event is over.

AACRAO Representative, Dr. Tiffani Robertson, Director of Academic Services, College of Business @ Governors State University, VP for Leadership Management and Development, AACRAO Board of Directors

Dr. Tiffani Robertson is the Director of Academic Services in the College of Business at Governors State University and an adjunct faculty member teaching courses in organizational strategy, reputation management, and interdisciplinary studies. She earned her Ph.D. in Educational Administration and Foundations – Higher Education from Illinois State University and an MBA in Marketing from DeVry University. Her professional and research interests focus on enrollment management, transfer student mobility, and leadership development in higher education. Dr. Robertson serves as Vice President for Leadership and Management Development on the Board of Directors for the American Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers (AACRAO) and is a member of the College & University Journal Editorial Board. She is also a Past President of the Illinois Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers (IACRAO) and has more than 20 years of experience advancing equitable, student-centered institutional practices.

Entertainment, Raffles, and Prizes

Wednesday Day/Night

On Wednesday, we have a theme to win a prize: 'bring your wand'. With what implement do you work your magic? Come on, let's see it! This will be a great night to catch up with colleagues who have become friends and meet new and future friends!

First, we will enjoy a dinner of mixed seasonal greens salad, herb garlic roasted vegetables, sour cream and chive mashed potatoes, with entrees of Petit Fillet Mignon in a bourbon reduction and chicken breast de jonghe.. Following dinner, we will have cheesecake in berry sauce. Guests with dietary requests will receive a chef's choice substitution.

After dinner, our planned entertainment is 'Death by Q & A: A Murder Mystery party'. At the annual conference for records and admissions officers, Dr. Rupert Pell has been found murdered shortly before he was to present his closing remarks. Rumor had it that he had a big announcement "that would change the organization forever". Could that be why he was murdered?

Thursday Day/Night

Thursday's theme is school spirit day and best dressed wins a prize. Join us for a family-style dinner of cream of chicken and rice soup, caprese salad, baked penne with marinara, green beans with sweet bacon and tomatoes., pork roulade, and thin sliced roast beef, with double chocolate cake for dessert. Dinner will be followed by our staple costume party! If you are new to IACRAO, yes, many people do dress up, but it is not required! The menu is subject to change. Guests with dietary requests will receive a chef's substitution. After dinner, change into your costume and get ready to dance the night away to the musical sounds provided by Be in the Moment with a photo booth. We will have a DJ and prizes for the following categories:

- Best Individual
- Best Duo or Group
- Most Creative
- Scariest
- Funniest

Friday

Friday's theme is wear your favorite ugly sweater day! Let's be comfortable and warm as we reach the finish line for another year's conference.

Conference Raffles for Scholarship Fundraising 50/50 Raffle

Tickets can be purchased (cash only) at $1 each or six for $5, or a 'President-Elect wingspan's length for $20. IACRAO members will be selling tickets throughout the conference. The winning drawing will take place on Friday's closing session.

Raffle Prizes

Tickets can be purchased (cash only) at $1 each or six for $5, or a 'President-Elect wingspan's length for $20. IACRAO members will be selling tickets throughout the conference. The winning drawing will take place on Friday's closing session. There are five fabulous gift collections that can be won!

Thank you for your generous support of students at our membership institutions!

2:30 PM	3:30 PM	Breakout Sessions Block 1
1.1	Artistic (and Somewhat Magical) Ways to Develop Yourself Professionally Join Trinka Pape in this session as we will take a look at our personal goals, examine AACRAO free and paid training, micro-credentials, free resume reviews, and complete a Self-Assessment. If your desire is to develop your skills and education in pursuit of a specific career path, or are just starting to consider your options, this session will help you. Presenter: Trinka Pape, University of Illinois - Carbondale		Pine Room

1.2	The Students We Already Have: Using Data, Partnerships, and Targeted Interventions to Support Persistence Tiffani Robertson helps guide us through strategies on how best to serve those students we already have. Institutions invest heavily in recruiting new students, but what about the students already enrolled? This session explores how the College of Business at Governors State University uses data, targeted interventions, and campus partnerships to support persistence. Through continuing-student outreach and a grant-funded transition initiative, attendees will learn practical strategies to identify student needs, coordinate support, and turn data into action. Presenter: Tiffani Robertson, Governors State University		Birch Room
1.3	Presenting on Presenting: Removing the Horror from Public Speaking Presented by Sam Taylor, this session will focus on Tips, Tricks, and Treats while talking about presenting/public speaking and how to build confidence enough to try it out. Presenter: Sam Taylor, Illinois State University		Ash Room

2.1	The Tricks and Treats of Process Mapping: Turning Frightening Workflows into Efficient Processes Are your processes running smoothly, or are they hiding a few skeletons in the closet? Join us as we uncover the tricks and treats of process mapping and discover how to turn frightening workflows into efficient, streamlined operations. We'll explore the fundamentals of process mapping, identify common pitfalls and hidden inefficiencies, and share practical techniques for improving		Elm Room everyday processes. Through real-world examples, a little Halloween humor, and interactive activities, you'll learn how to spot bottlenecks, eliminate unnecessary steps, and create processes that work smarter, not harder. Whether you're new to process mapping or looking to sharpen your skills, you'll leave with tools and strategies to help keep your workflows from becoming a nightmare! Presenter: Sam Taylor, Illinois State University

2.2		Get Involved with IACRAO As a volunteer professional organization, IACRAO runs on the strength and energy of its members. Join us for this session that will go over the various leadership roles within the organization, background on who current Board members first involved themselves, and how you can give back to our community! Facilitators: Members of the IACRAO Board	Birch Room
2.3		A Little AI Alchemy: Creating and Collaborating with AI AI can draft an email in seconds, but can it help bring your bigger ideas to life? Step up to the collaboration cauldron! Through real examples, audience participation, and a special AI guest appearance, discover how adding context, expertise, and a little trial and error can transform ideas into useful resources, processes, and solutions. The secret ingredient? Your judgment. No magic spell required—just curiosity and a willingness to experiment! Presenter: Katy Saalfeld, Northern Illinois University	Ash Room

Conference Daily Schedule – Thursday

Start	End	Title/Description	Location
8:00 AM	5:00 PM	Registration
8:00 AM	9:00 AM	Breakfast	Forest Ballroom
9:00 AM	10:00 AM	Breakout Sessions Block 3
3.1	Comprehensive Academic Operations: How a Platform Approach Supports Institutional Goals Registrars, provosts, and academic affairs teams are doing more with less every year. Siloed-manual processes, pointed solutions and duplicate data entry only make it harder. This session explores how bringing Scheduling, Curriculum, and Assessment together on one platform, with AI-powered reporting and contextual recommendations built in, lets institutions streamline operations, make faster data-informed decisions, and support retention and financial sustainability. Presenters: Joe Cornelius, Coursedog & Jessica Gonzalez, Elmhurst University		Ash Room
3.2	The Wonderful World of Waitlists Let's talk waitlists! During this session, we will discuss how McHenry County College optimized waitlist data as part of its enrollment management efforts. Learn how we increased the percentage of students registering from a waitlist, set up staggered waitlisting for 16-week, 12-week, and 8-week sections, and collaborated with Academic Affairs to offer additional sections of high-need classes. Presenter: Geoff Glowicki, McHenry County College		Elm Room

3.3	Beyond the Cliff: Data-Informed Frameworks for Sustainable Enrollment Growth Join Diane Dean and Autym Henderson as we navigate changing Illinois demographics, expanding dual-credit pipelines, and funding shifts with data-informed, relationship-based operational frameworks. Move beyond generic theories to analyze key friction points along the enrollment-to-completion funnel. Participants will leave with an actionable diagnostic toolkit to evaluate and adapt academic operations and strategic enrollment on their campuses. Presenters: Diane Dean & Autym Henderson,		Birch Room
3.4	AACRAO Updates Join Tiffani Robertson to learn about the news and updates from AACRAO at the national level. Presenter: Tiffani Robertson, Governors State University		Aspen/Willow Rooms
10:00 AM	10:15 AM	Morning Break
10:20 AM	11:20 AM	Breakout Sessions Block 4
4.1	More Doors, Fewer Barriers: A Cross-Functional Approach to Registration Support Academic advising offices often manage most registration issues, creating service bottlenecks and limiting time for academic planning. Triton College recently launched a cross-functional initiative to expand registration support across selected student service areas. This session will share the model, staff training, advisor shadowing, early lessons, and assessment plans. As implementation continues, Triton will evaluate staff readiness, service delivery, and student impact. Presenter: Denise Jones, Triton College		Ash Room

4.2	MyCreditsTransfer Statewide Meeting Join Gina Modica, coordinator for MyCreditsTransfer (MCT), to hear MCT project updates, Transferology usage statistics, and Transferology updates. Come with Transferology/MCT questions. Presenter: Gina Modica, Illinois MyCreditsTransfer (MCT)	Elm Room
4.3	Operational Planning: Why It Matters and How to Do It Effectively Operational planning is a powerful way to align your department's work with your college's mission, strategic priorities, and desired outcomes. In this session, participants will explore the value of operational planning and learn a practical, step-by-step approach to developing effective plans with their teams. Discover strategies to engage staff, build shared ownership, and create a planning process that is both meaningful and motivating. Presenter: Hannah Kang, Heartland Community College	Birch Room
4.4	Bean There, Solved That: Clearinghouse Solutions for Campus Challenges Grab a cup of coffee and join Mindy for a conversation about practical solutions to challenges facing today's colleges and universities. As institutions face growing demands with limited staff and resources, efficient processes and actionable data have never been more important. This interactive discussion will highlight how campuses are using Clearinghouse services, including Transcript Ordering and Fulfillment, Third-Party Ordering for Admissions, ETX Receiving, Slate Integration, and Sentinel360, to simplify workflows, support enrollment goals, and gain valuable insights. Presenter: Mindy Starcher, National Student Clearinghouse	Aspen/Willow Rooms

11:25 AM	12:25 PM	Breakout Sessions Block 5
5.1	FERPA Essentials What Staff and Faculty Should Know Offered by Dan Weber, this session will provide a foundation of what FERPA is and who FERPA applies to but it will also take a deeper dive into aspects of what a staff or faculty member should know. Presenter: Dan Weber, Oakton College	Ash Room
5.2	Three Tools, One Effective Strategy: uAchieve, TES, and Transferology. Presented by Aleta Carlberg and Stephanie Sutton, our CollegeSource sponsor. uAchieve allows you to store transfer articulation rules, build degree programs for your curriculum, build term-by-term student degree plans, and build schedules. TES gives staff an efficient way to view catalog information in one place that is needed to make equivalency decisions or communicate with those making equivalency decisions. Anyone interested in viewing how their courses transfer to your school and learning how they apply to your degree programs can do so from within Transferology. Presenters: Aleta Carlberg & Stephanie Sutton, CollegeSource	Elm Room
5.3	Bright Ideas Session The Bright Ideas Session, sponsored by the Illinois Association of Collegiate Records and Admissions Officers (IACRAO) is an annual competition where members share innovative projects implemented at their own institutions. The audience votes for the best idea and the winner receives a free conference registration for the next year. Facilitator: Trinka Pape, University of Illinois - Carbondale	Birch Room

5.4	The Happiest Transfer Enrollment on Earth: Designing Student Experiences That Inspire Belonging, Trust, and Loyalty		Aspen/Willow Rooms
	What makes transfer students feel like they belong before they ever arrive on campus? Inspired by Disney™'s approach to creating memorable experiences, this session explores how intentional communication and meaningful connections can transform transfer enrollment. Discover practical ways to build trust, reduce uncertainty, and create a student experience that turns applicants into confident, connected members of your campus community. Presenter: Emily Danger, Palmer College of Chiropractic
12:30 PM	2:45 PM	Lunch/Business Meeting/District Meetings	Forest Ballroom
2:50 PM	3:50 PM	Breakout Sessions Block 6
6.1	Wielding Humanity: Staying Human, Trusted, and Connected in the Age of AI		Ash Room
	In addition to serving as our keynote speaker, Joshua will also join us for the breakout sessions of our schedule, presenting his program on Wielding Humanity. AI is changing the way we work, communicate, sell, serve, and lead. It can make us faster. It can make us more efficient. It can even make us sound smarter. But it cannot replace what people want most from leaders, teams, brands, and organizations: trust, sincerity, discernment, and real human connection. In this engaging and thought-provoking keynote, Joshua Routh helps audiences understand how to use AI as a tool without losing the humanity that makes work meaningful and relationships strong. With humor, insight, and memorable storytelling, Joshua shows why the future will not belong to the people who simply know how to use AI. It will belong to the people who know how to use it without becoming artificial themselves.

	Presenter: Joshua Routh
6.2	Onboarding: The Good, the Bad & the Frightening Some onboarding experiences are magical. Others are downright frightening! Whether you've designed onboarding, been tasked with it, or simply survived your own first days, this session is for you. Join us for anonymous onboarding horror stories, lighthearted awards, and a little practical magic including a special AI guest! We'll share an onboarding roadmap and exchange ideas to help new colleagues feel welcomed, prepared, and confident. Let's take the fright out of onboarding! Presenter: Katy Saalfeld, Northern Illinois University	Elm Room
6.3	There is Never Enough: How Registrar's Create Value in Challenging Times There is never enough: staff, budget, time, or enrollment. Using a summer redesign as a case study, this session explores how registrars can create value through leadership, data-informed decision making, and cross-campus collaboration. Attendees will leave with ideas to support enrollment, student success, and institutional priorities without adding resources. Practical ideas and leadership lessons included. Presenter: Mark Mountain, Olivet Nazarene University	Birch Room
6.4	Decision Paralysis & Digital Overload: Engaging Gen Z in the Age of Anxiety Admissions professionals across the Midwest are experiencing a common challenge: students are engaging later, responding less consistently, and expressing greater uncertainty — even after admission. Research from Jean Twenge (2023) and related scholarship on “The Anxious Generation” suggests that students are navigating higher levels of anxiety, reduced in-person independence, digital overload and heightened risk awareness are contributing to decision paralysis among Gen Z students.	Aspen/Willow Rooms

		This interactive session reframes common enrollment challenges (ghosting, delayed deposits, repeated reassurance questions) through a psychological and generational perspective. Participants will explore how anxiety presents in the admissions funnel, examine real communication examples, and practice rewriting messaging to reduce decision paralysis without lowering expectations. Participants will examine real admissions messaging examples, redesign communication scripts in small groups, and leave with practical tools to create psychologically informed recruitment strategies that improve yield without increasing staff burnout. Presenter: Emily Danger, Palmer College of Chiropractic
3:50 PM	4:50 PM	Exhibitor Hour
4:30 PM	5:30 PM	Past-Presidents and Retirees Reception (by invitation only)	Aspen/Willow Rooms
5:30 PM	7:00 PM	Dinner	Forest Ballroom
7:00 PM	10:00 PM	Costume Party and Dance Cash Bar Available Costume Prize Categories: • Best Individual • Best Duo or Group • Most Creative • Scariest • Funniest
